Please take the time to read and understand this Cookie Notice which has been provided for Your information as a User of Our Website, for transparency purposes on Our use of cookies and related technology tools deployed by Our Website.

1. Cookies

1.1. What is a cookie?
Cookies are small pieces of text sent to Your web browser by a website You visit. A cookie file is stored in Your browser and allows the Website to recognise You and make Your next visit easier and the Service more useful to You. Cookies do not typically contain any information that personally identifies a user. In the event Personal Data is contained in the cookies, the same terms apply as set out in the Privacy Notice.

Cookies can be classified as either ‘session’ or ‘persistent’, depending on how long they last after they are placed on Your browser. Session cookies last for as long as You keep Your browser open. They expire when You close Your browser. Persistent cookies expire at a fixed point in time or if You manually delete them from Your browser, whichever occurs first. Cookies on Our Website are set either by Us or by third parties.
